

REPORT TO THE COMMUNITY

Since the COVID-19 pandemic started over a year ago, United Way of Clallam County has been working overtime to help our community respond, recover, reimagine and rebuild. Distributing over $300,000 of COVID response grants, serving on committees and task forces to increase awareness of the relief available, and raising an additional $557,934 in our annual campaign. Together we've helped residents across the county cope with the impact on their lives and livelihoods.

This is our collective United Way story. We worked with you to create innovative approaches to get food and critical supplies to the quarantined and isolated. We helped local companies engage their employees in meaningful, safe ways to help their neighbors. Your time and donations provided endless assistance to your communities. The work you do every day, especially during the pandemic, is the foundation for United Way's collective success.

United Way has always fought for the health, education, and financial stability of every person in every community. As the pandemic continues, so does our critical work of helping the most vulnerable in these tough times. We're not doing it alone, though. People across the globe have donated to United Way, volunteered to help their neighbors, and advocated for governments to provide COVID relief. The human response has been heartening, including helping people avoid eviction and keep the lights on; volunteers delivering food to people in isolation; business partners helping to close the digital divide for virtual education, and much more.

The generosity of our community has been an inspiration. In this report, you'll see how United Way, our donors, volunteers, and advocates are coming up with innovative solutions to meet communities' needs. But our work is far from over. United Way is committed to ensuring communities become stronger, more inclusive, and more sustainable as they recover. Systemic racial and ethnic inequities have made it harder for the most vulnerable to get the support they need. United Way seeks to change that: we want to reimagine and rebuild healthy, equitable communities.

That's why United Way is continuing to do local impact to work with our partners from community coalitions, governments, businesses, agencies to you. Your dedication helps us make our communities strong, resilient places. Over the next year, we'll continue fighting for a stronger, better future for all. With your support, we can help every person have an equal opportunity to thrive. Join us in giving to United Way by mailing a contribution form, or by donating online at www.unitedwayclallam.org. Your donation, of any amount, makes a difference and is vitally important because one gift to United Way can touch the lives of thousands of individuals and families. United we fight, United we win.

COVID-19 RESPONSE FUND

A COMMUNITY THAT LIVES UNITED STAYS UNITED

of 2020, we established the Clallam Covid-19 Response Fund as a way to minimize the financial implications of the outbreak. We were well positioned for this type of rapid response, with volunteered groups and a staff focused on identifying emerging needs. We worked with direct-service providers to get the dollars where they were needed most.

WE WERE

floored when our community rose to the occasion and helped us raise $360,460!!! Our community is stronger when it is unified, and it took all of us working together to respond and recover. This pandemic was a new challenge for us, but the community spirit required in response was not.

THANK YOU

to all of the generous members of our community who gave to our COVID-19 Response Fund. Your donations are vitally important to our community and have changed the lives of thousands of our neighbors.
